Differences between a green bond and a European Green Bond

Green bond	European Green Bond (EuGB)
May follow different voluntary international standards.	Complies with the requirements established by the European Green Bond Regulation.
The issuer defines its financing framework and eligibility criteria.	The projects financed must be aligned with the EU Taxonomy, subject to the flexibility permitted under the regulation.
Includes information on the use of proceeds and environmental impact.	Establishes common requirements for transparency, monitoring and external verification.
May follow different international standards, such as the Green Bond Principles.	Has an official designation recognised within the European regulatory framework.