

OSCAR-WINNING NATURE DOCUMENTARIES

2006

AN INCONVENIENT TRUTH [DAVIS GUGGENHEIM]

A poignant and shocking portrayal of the impact of climate change on the planet that brought the issue to light and laid it out for people.

MARCH OF THE PENGUINS [LUC JACQUET]

A thrilling adventure starring emperor penguins in their battle to survive at temperatures of -40 °C to keep the species alive.

2005

THE HELLSTROM CHRONICLE [ED SPIEGEL Y WALON GREEN]

The audience had never seen insects so close up, but this documentary transcends the genre when science fiction elements take over the narrative.

1971

THE SILENT WORLD [JACQUES-YVES COUSTEAU AND LOUIS MALLE]

Marine biology master Cousteau and film auteur Malle team up to reveal the fascinating world of the ocean's depths.

1956

THE VANISHING PRAIRIE [JAMES ALGAR]

The director of Fantasia was also a nature documentary pioneer. Here he takes us to the great prairies of the United States.
