

Focuses of the C40 network to achieve its objectives

Development bank reform to meet the needs of cities.

Giving cities access to international funds to protect the environment.

Cities should recover the ability to be able to control their own finances.

National governments should maintain stable policies and legislative frameworks.

Innovation should be a priority, as should sharing projects. This needs to be the new norm.

Cities need maximum support to develop their capacity to prepare and execute projects.

Source: LA Network