

The main objectives of multilateralism today

The Joint Statement entitled Together for stronger multilateralism, launched in 2020 to mark the 75th anniversary of the UN, aims to strengthen the multilateral system to address major global challenges.

Reduce inequality and leave no one behind with a just transition.

Ensure sustainable financing for a change of model.

Improve health and well-being conditions and the efficiency of the health system.

Harness the potential of the digital revolution.

Protect our planet from the threat of climate change.

Defend human rights, democracy and gender equality.

Build and promote peace, security and justice.
