

What can we humans do to care for animals?

Reduce our carbon footprint. Move around and eat more sustainably, and support policies that advocate decarbonisation.

Protect ecosystems and habitats. Take care of protected natural spaces and support policies that protect wildlife.

Report cruelty to animals. Actions that threaten or endanger protected species are illegal.

Minimise the use of pesticides and herbicides. These are chemical products that can enter the food chain and harm a wide variety of species.

Native plant species. Grow species appropriate to your region to preserve the habitat of pollinators and other species.

Help with ending the illegal trade in species. Never buy products made using animals or plants that are threatened or in danger of extinction.

Support recycling and alternative uses for plastic. Separate waste correctly and avoid single-use plastics, such as bags, bottles, straws, packaging, etc.

Support endangered species. Share information on their problems and become a volunteer for organisations dedicated to conservation.
