

TYPES OF HUMAN INTELLIGENCE

01. Linguistic

Ability to use language effectively, either in the oral or written form.

05. Body-kinaesthetic

Ability to express ideas, handle tools or perform physical exercises with the body.

02. Musical

Ability to perceive, identify, transform and express musical forms.

06. Interpersonal

Ability to interpret the mental state (feelings, motivations) of others.

03. Logical-mathematical

Ability to use numbers effectively and analyse problems logically.

07. Intrapersonal

Ability to form a precise and true model of oneself.

04. Spatial

Ability to imagine drawings in two or three dimensions and to understand space.

08. Naturalistic

Ability to identify, classify and manipulate elements in the environment.

Source: Howard Gardner.