

Hello:

As you know, 2026 sees Iberdrola celebrate 125 years of history driving the energy that changes the world. Our own 125 light-years. Since our founding as Hidroeléctrica Ibérica in Bilbao on 19 July 1901, we have travelled a long road to become Europe's leading electricity company by market capitalisation and one of the two largest in the world.

We want to share such an exciting milestone with everyone. That is why we have launched an extensive programme of activities that will travel across Spain throughout the year. It's a unique opportunity to celebrate the power that energy has to transform society – with our employees, customers, shareholders, suppliers and the public.

This anniversary is a tribute to everyone who, with an innovative spirit and a shared passion, has contributed their energy to make history together.

Join the celebrations!

From music festivals to technology shows

In Bilbao, which is where our group is headquartered, the Bilbao Fine Arts Museum will host an exhibition from April featuring the Iberdrola Collection, which explores the company's historical evolution.

There will be two other major music festivals from Iberdrola: in June, in Madrid, we will hold the Iberdrola Music Festival, featuring leading artists such as Lenny Kravitz, Manuel Carrasco and Ana Mena, and in November at Roig Arena in Valencia, with a line-up that will be announced soon.

Alongside the institutional event, we will invite the people of Bilbao and its visitors to an afternoon of concerts as part of the Iberdrola Music Festival Bilbao and to a light show with Torre Iberdrola as the centrepiece.

A company with vision and courage

This year we are celebrating a light that began to shine in Bilbao in 1901 with the founding of Hidroeléctrica Ibérica, and that has travelled tirelessly since through decades of development and leadership – both in Spain and on the international stage.

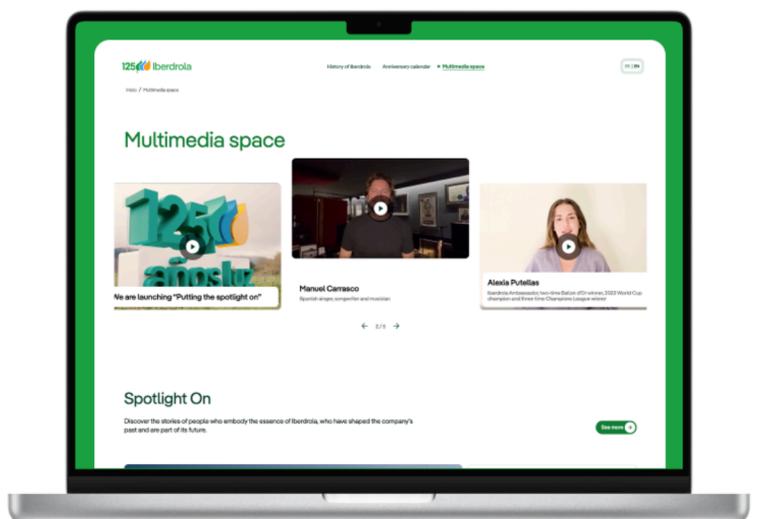

Our growth over the past 25 years has consolidated us as a global energy leader in networks, storage and clean energy. Today we serve 100 million people and support more than half-a-million jobs worldwide.

As a result, Iberdrola is Europe's leading electricity company by market capitalisation and one of the largest in the world, with a value exceeding €125 billion in our 125th anniversary year.

Putting the focus on people

In the multimedia section of our 125th anniversary website you can find leading figures from sport and music such as Alexia Putellas, Ana Peleteiro, Manuel Carrasco, Ana Mena and Álvaro de Luna congratulating us on our 125 light-years and inviting you not to miss a thing.

In the same space we also share the stories of different people who have contributed their energy to make history together. A tribute that reflects the essence of Iberdrola and of those who have been part of the company's past and are shaping its future.
