Data centre electricity consumption by region, Base Case, 2020-2030

The International Energy Agency (IEA) predicts that the United States, China and Europe will continue to be the regions with the highest electricity demand for data centres in the coming years. China and the United States are the most important regions in terms of growth in data centre electricity consumption, accounting for almost 80% of global growth until 2030.

TWh

Projected

Legend:
- United States
- China
- Europe
- Asia excluding China
- Rest of world

Source: International Energy Agency (IEA)