

PHOTO NEWS

Galán, with the president of the Brazilian Chamber of Deputies

Ignacio Galán, Iberdrola group chairman, has met with the president of the Brazilian Chamber of Deputies, Rodrigo Maia, in Madrid as part of his official visit to Spain.

During the meeting, Galán reiterated the company's commitment to Brazil, where its subsidiary, Neoenergia, is to invest around 30 billion reais (more than €6 bn) over the next 5 years, aimed at fostering continued growth, mainly in the areas of renewable energy and electric grids.

